ACCURACY OF THE ADVERTISING INFORMATION

We always have a strict check on all the information (as accommodation, courses, scuba diving, routes, timetable ecc.) published in our brochures and database. We make sure that all the information is correct upon their printing and publication, but since some information is entered in advance in the communication system, some advertising could be changed and moreover some information details could undergo a change on our website. In the above mentioned circumstances we try to update all the possible changes in a short-time. Tours, excursions, boat cruises or day trips could be modified because of particular local conditions as: weather, yearly religious recurrences, chiefs of state meeting, unexpected happenings etc. All the mentioned conditions could be the cause of 'inevitable' and 'unusual' anomalies that could modify all the published information on our brochures or on our website. As soon as we receive any information about short/long-time changes, we will do our best to inform you before your arrival.

We work to keep all our promotional materials up to date, but if you notice that something should be changed please inform us accordingly, as we can promptly re-arrange it.
