ReefCI trips run Monday thru Friday on the island, so you will need to arrive and depart Belize during the weekend. We depart by boat for the ReefCI island from Placencia, Belize. There are two good options to reach ReefCI located in Placencia, Belize.

1. From Belize International Airport, fly down on a 'hopper' plane to Placencia with Tropic Air or Mayan Air. The flight takes about 45 minutes and will range anywhere from $230-260 USD round trip and is an exciting ride. Most guests choose this option. Tropic Air and Mayan Air provide 7-9 daily flights on the weekends to/from Belize International and Placencia; the first flight starting at 7:00 am and the last flight around 5:00 pm. I would definitely do a quick flight search at Tropic Air and Mayan Air to find the best price.

Travel Tip! Have your camera ready as you will fly low enough to take in all the beautiful scenery with the jungle on one side and the Belize Barrier Reef on the other.

2. From Belize International Airport, catch a luxury bus service. This option is for the eco-conscious and budget-wise traveler. Placencia Resorts Airport Shuttle Services (PRASS) is a luxury and environmentally conscious coach service that provides the most comfortable streamline transit from Philip S. W. Goldson International Airport (Belize International Airport) to Placencia. To limit their ecological footprint, they are proud to be Belize's first coach service to utilize only hybrid shuttles!! Their luxury coach shuttles also provide complimentary Wi-Fi and refreshments. Round trip service costs about $150 USD and takes about 4 hours.

Travel Tip! If you are planning to take the bus option just for the scenery, you may regret not taking the flight option. You can't beat the view from the air!

Need help searching for an international flight to Belize? The international airport is Philip S.W. Goldson International Airport (Belize International Airport). It is in Belize City and the airport code is BZE.

2. If travelling from the U.K. or other parts of Europe, you will need to fly to the United States and then catch a connection down to Belize International (BZE). At present, there are no direct flights from Europe. There are direct flights available from London Gatwick (LGW) airport into Cancun, Mexico that can work out cheaper. From Cancun, ADO (Mexico's first-class bus service) run safe and comfortable overnight buses direct into Belize City. They leave Cancun around 10pm and arrive in Belize City before 8am; the cost is only $50 USD per person. Alternatively, you can book a Tropic Air flight from Cancun to Belize City then down to Placencia.
