Furthermore, you can enjoy some beach time in these wonderful places. You can opt for sea kayaking as well, which is quite an enjoyable way to see the hotspots of the island.

Palau on Land

Palau has a very rich history, which can be experienced in numerous different tours.

Boat ride to Peleliu Islands and check out the interesting remnants of the WWII battle or visit the Stone Monoliths on the northern part of the island with their stunning views.

These are just some of the many domestic travel options to choose from when you book with Siren Fleet.

Travel & Diving Insurance

Siren Fleet strongly recommend that all guests carry full travel and cancellation insurance, as we cannot be held liable for delays occurring during the cruise, any delays or cancellations of the flights, accommodations, or tours & transfers we organise on your behalf.

Please note that diving insurance is mandatory aboard all Siren Fleet yachts, irrespective of your destination. Your insurance must cover all of your scuba diving and snorkeling activities, including the costs for recompression chamber treatment and emergency air evacuation.

We recommend the comprehensive insurance plan Dive & Travel Plus; which has been specifically developed for diving liveaboard holidays. General Information

Visa and Passports

Passport holders of most other Western countries obtain a 30-day tourist visa on arrival at no extra charge. They may ask to see your confirmed return/onward flight ticket. Please make sure your passport is valid for at least 6 months from date of entry into Palau. Citizens of the United States are granted a 1-year visa upon arrival. All visitors are required to present a valid passport and a return/onwards airline ticket to travel to Palau. Visa and passport regulations differ per country; therefore, we do advise our guests to check for any updates or changes of visa procedures with their nearest embassy/consulate.

Time Zone

The local time in the Republic of Palau is +9 hours UMC (GMT).

Money Matters

The US Dollar is the official currency of Palau. The majority of established hotels, shops and restaurants accept major credit cards or traveler's cheques. Occasionally, smaller family-run business will only accept cash. There are several US operated banks and plenty of ATMs in Palau, making cash readily accessible. On the other hand, the exchange rate used in banks and ATMs is not so favourable, so guests are advised to change money prior to arrival in Palau.

Airport Fees – Environmental Impact Fees

The government of Palau is due to implement a new Environmental Impact Fee (EIF) in Palau that is to be implemented as law on April 1, 2017. However, the process is still not resolved due to the fact that there are concerns locally about implementing the increased fee and so rumours suggest that it will be postponed for up to a year.

However, until officially confirmed from government entities, and to be on the safe side, we would suggest that all guests travelling to Palau with a departure from April 1, 2017 onwards to be prepared to pay the new US$100 per person Environmental Impact Fee and to have this in cash available unless we notify otherwise in the meantime.

It is presently unclear whether the EIF will be collected upon arrival or departure, so please be prepared either way. Once implemented, the $100 EIF will entirely replace the current combined Green Fee & Departure Tax of $50.

Health

Health care is readily available in Palau. The Belau National Hospital is a professionally staffed hospital with an experienced barotrauma team. It is located in the capital city of Koror, along with several other private health clinics.

Please make sure you use insect repellent and cover exposed skin to prevent any insect borne diseases. We recommend our guests to take normal precautions with food and be sure to drink bottled water only in order to prevent any stomach upsets. Please consult your doctor or nearest health care professional for up-to-date medical travel/vaccination information well before departure. Visitors arriving from countries affected by cholera or yellow fever are required to show proof of immunization upon arrival.

Language and Religion

Palauan and English are the official languages of the Republic of Palau and both are widely spoken. Tagalog, Japanese and Mandarin are also quite common. Climate and Weather

Palau is 7 degrees north of the equator and enjoys a warm tropical climate year round. Temperatures average 27°C (82°F), while water temperatures average a pleasant 27°C (82°F) as well. Diving, however, is excellent year around with high season considered to be November through May.

Water Temperature and Exposure Suits

The warm tropical waters of Palau are pleasant throughout the year averaging 27°C (82 °F). Most guests find that a 3mm wetsuit or shorty is suitable and many dive with just a skin. For guests who tend to get cold easily, especially after repetitive dives, we recommend to bring the wetsuit you feel most comfortable in.

Diving Health

Flying after Diving

Current studies show that you should wait at least 24 hours after multiple days with repetitive diving before flying. Please keep this in mind when you book your onward international or domestic flights.

Diving Insurance

Diving insurance is mandatory aboard all Siren Fleet yachts, irrespective of your destination. Your insurance must cover all of your scuba diving and snorkeling activities, including the costs for recompression chamber treatment and emergency air evacuation.

Siren Fleet works in partnership with DiveAssure and can offer you a selection of competitively priced dive and travel insurance policies, including short term and multiple trip policies. We recommend the comprehensive insurance plan Dive & Travel Plus; which has been specifically developed for diving liveaboard holidays. This insurance covers your trip expenses in the event of missing your liveaboard departure due to (flight) delays. Moreover, it provides coverage for lost diving days if for any reason the boat is required to abort the cruise; for instance, due to a guest injury, mechanical breakdown of the ship, air supply failure, inclement weather conditions, etc.

Diving Emergencies

There is a recompression chamber located in Koror that is able to provide emergency treatment for decompression illness in the unlikely event of an accident. We strongly encourage all guests to dive well within their recognised limits, carefully follow dive guides' advice, and of course, purchase specific dive insurance before their trips.

Palau, Full/New Moon Spawning with Unique Expeditions

Unique Expeditions

Siren Fleet are excited to announce that they have teamed up with Paul Collins and Richard Barnden of Sam's Tours Unique Dive Expeditions to offer our guests something truly exceptional in Palau. Divers joining the Palau Siren on these cruises will have a chance to witness one of the most spectacular natural events on earth, the spawning aggregations of the Bumphead Parrotfish and the Red Snapper.

These aggregations of Bumphead Parrotfish (Bolbometopon Muricatum) and Red Snapper (Lutjanus Bohar) occur during the new and full moon lunar cycles. Imagine seeing thousands of Bumphead Parrotfish or tens of thousands of Red Snappers in one area, at one particular time each month. Imagine seeing Bull Sharks and Oceanic Blacktips actively hunting within the large school of Red Snapper. It is something only a select few people ever get to witness and you can now be one of them!

In addition to these special aggregation dives, Paul and Richard have pioneered 'Blackwater' diving in Palau. Imagine rolling off the boat in the pitch black of night, sometimes many miles away from the shallow water of the reefs, to watch one of the largest migrations on earth as all manner of weird and wonderful creatures from the depths head closer to the surface to feed. From post larval fish to Cephalopods, many smaller than your finger nail, these amazing dives present some of the weirdest creatures you are ever likely to see without a submarine.

During these special Palau Siren trips, Paul and Richard will also deliver a number of presentations about these unique dives. These talks will cover everything from the ecology of these events to the best way to photograph them.

We will split the group into two teams of 8 with Richard and Paul taking only 8 people to these spectacular events each day, thereby maximizing the experience and ensuring that we only observe, not interfere with, this spectacular behavior.

Better yet, for Siren Fleet guests there is no additional charge for this extraordinary adventure! Please note, however, that these dives are only for the experienced divers as there can often be very strong currents at the sites where the action is happening.

About Paul & Richard

Paul Collins, who holds a Master's Degree in Marine Science, has spent the last 4 years studying the full and new moon cycles and their effect on the marine life, establishing where and when they occur on the reefs in Palau.

Together with his photo-pro partner, Richard Barnden, they have worked with Sam's Tours Palau to set up Unique Dive Expeditions. This company focuses on bringing divers to the right place, at the right moment, so they can also witness these spectacular events.

Richard has published many articles on the marine life in Palau and Paul, an award winning cameraman himself, having worked for the BBC, CNN and many other world class production companies. Most certainly, you can learn a lot from the knowledge of these two experts; not only of the marine life but also how to get that once in a lifetime shot!!
